

India's Best Selling Test Series at www.ibtindia.com

TIME-60 MINS

1

READING COMP. & ERROR DETECTION

Direction (Q. 1 - 5): In the following question, one part of the	8. Despite a long history and much $(1)$ / promise, the pace and level sentence has an error. Read the sentence to find the error and	of India's industrial (2)/ development has been well below even mark the corresponding option. If the sentence has no error	conservative (3)/ expectations and far short in potential. (4)/ No
choose option 5 'No error' as your answer.	error(5)
1. In addition to the regular financial help, $(1)$ / training and	1.1 2.2
development programmes (2)/ will be rolled to support high-skilled	3.3 4.4
talents, (3)/ while efforts will be made to encourage	5.5
businesses.(4)/No error(5)	9. In Kuznets' view, besides the diversification of (1)/economic
1.1 2.2	activity away from agriculture, also modern (2)/ economic growth
3.3 4.4	would be accompanied by an (3)/ increase in the size of non-
5.5	agricultural enterprises. (4)/ No error(5)
2. As part of the wide-ranging reforms, the (1)/ Abu Dhabi	1.1 2.2
Government will forge a partnership (2)/ with the private sector to	3.3 4.4
create and launch a new (3)/ technology incubator to attracting and	5.5
develop start-ups.(4)/ No error(5)	10. Recent trends in the organisational $(1)$ / form of units in the
1.1 2.2	registered manufacturing (2)/ sector suggests that India's factory
3.3 4.4	sector (3)/ is not just abnormal but backward to boot.(4)/ No
5.5	error(5)
3. The Liberals regained their influence $(1)/$ after the war in the	1.1 2.2
leadership of (2)/ William Lyon Mackenzie King, who served (3)/	3. 3 4. 4
as prime minister with three separate terms .(4)/ No error(5)	5.5
1.1 2.2	11. He set forth to propound a doctrine in human conduct – a
3.3 4.4	theoretical $(1)$ / scheme in which the man of active virtue should not
5.5	be baffled by the $(2)$ /vices of others, but use of their vices for his
4. By the time the Spanish determined $(1)/$ to build a fort	own advantage (3) and the advantage of the State.(4)/ No error (5)
on Vancouver Island, (2)/ the British navigator (3)/ James	1.1 2.2
Cook visited Nootka Sound.(4)/ No error(5)	3.3 4.4
1.1 2.2	5.5
3.3 4.4	12. In order to do that he had to survey the whole $(1)$ / field of
5.5	human knowledge and (2)/ fight against many malpractices which
5. The project costed about $(1)/$ $5 million and demonstrated $(2)/$	had come (3)/ to existence in the study of Science and Nature.(4)/
the need to complete $(3)$ /the Canadian Pacific Railway. $(4)$ / No	No error (5)
error(5)	1.1 2.2
1.1 2.2	3.3 4.4
3.3 4.4	5.5
5.5 Direction (O, $(-12)$ ). In the following sectores some parts have	Direction (Q. 13 - 17): Read the sentence to find out if there is
Direction (Q. 6 - 12): In the following sentence, some parts have	any grammatical error in it. The error if any will be in two errors and some are correct. Find out which part has an error and mark it as your answer. If there is no error, mark 'No	parts of the sentence. The combination of those parts will be the answer to that question. If no part in the sentence has an error error' as your answer.	then mark 'no error' as your answer.
6. U.K. Supreme Court's landmark ruling that (1)/ the prorogation	13. Rohan was very much sorry (A)/ about the of the British Parliament (2)/ was unlawful has rendered Prime	misunderstanding (B) which happened yesterday (C)/ at the
Minister (3)/ Boris Johnson's continuance morally untenable. $(4)/$	meeting. (D)
No error (5)	1. BC 2. AB
1.1 2.2	3. AC 4. AD
3.3 4.4	5. NO ERROR
5.5	14. President Xi headed in Nepal later on Saturday (A)/ where he is
7. Since 2001, in India global trends and domestic $(1)$ / policies	expected to push for farther Chinese involvement in (B)/ developing substantially have increased the $(2)$ / cross-border transfers of capital	its infrastructure as part of Beijing's signature (C)/ Belt and Road
and technology $(3)$ / from the developed to the less developed	Initiative to boost trade and transport links across Asia. (D)
countries.(4)/ No error(5)	1. AB 2. AC
1.1 2.2	3. CD 4. BD
3.3 4.4	5. No error
5.5

11	R
IBT INS	TITUTE PV	T. LTD

India's Best Selling Test Series at www.ibtindia.com

2

15. As countries that are large and diverse, they recognised (A)/	few key subtleties in meaning that can change a conversation.
the importance of continuing to make joint efforts (B)/ to ensure	Invention is about creating something new, while innovation that the international community (C)/ strengthens the framework	introduces the concept of 'use' of an existing idea or method. While against supporting terrorist groups.(D)	this difference is subtle, and these words are listed in every
1. AB 2. BC	thesaurus that I checked as synonyms of each other, they are
3. AD 4. CD	definitely not 100% interchangeable. An invention is usually
5. No error	'thing', while an innovation is usually an invention that causes a
16 . As science is a humanly endeavour, (A)/ it cannot entirely	change in behavior or interactions.
eliminate error, (B)/ but it can minimises the probability (C)/ of	The term 'invention', is defined as the act of creating, designing or errors and evaluate their magnitudes.(D)	discovering a device, method or process, that never existed before.
1. AB 2. AC	In finer terms, it is a novel scientific idea conceived through
3. BD 4. CD	research and experimentation that turns into a tangible object. It
5. No error	is a process of producing a new product.
17. While all cultures have used some sort of experimentation,	The word 'innovation' can be an introduction or development of a
(A)/for improving its technologies, the systematic use (B)/ of	new product, process, technology, service or improving/redesigning
experiments of the acquisition of theoretical knowledge $(C)$ / is a	the existing ones that provide solutions to the current market fundamental novel aspect of modern science.(D)	requirements. All the processes that help in the generation of new
1. AC 2. AD	ideas and translating them into the products demanded by the
3. BC 4. BD	customers are covered under innovation.
5. No error	So, it can be said that innovation is not the same thing as invention, Direction (Q. 18 - 22): Read the sentence to find out if there is	as these are two different concepts. Further, invention is when any grammatical error in it. The error if any will be in two	something new or novel to the world is discovered, while parts of the sentence. The combination of those parts will be the	innovation is about introducing an effective way of using, producing answer to that question. If no part in the sentence has an error	or distributing something.
then mark 'no error' as your answer.	23. Which of the following can be a suitable title for the given
18. No matter how (A)/ hard I try (B)/ I will never be able (C)/ to	passage?
live up to their expectations (D)	1. Driving innovation while protecting invention
1. AB 2. CD	2. Invention is easy - Innovation is difficult
3. AC 4. AD	3. Invention vs Innovation
5. NO ERROR	4. The genius of innovation
19. Because of my car (A)/ is in the garage (B)/ I will be unable	5. Necessity is the mother of invention to (C)/ assist you up tomorrow morning (D)	24. In the following question, a word with its meaning is given. If
1. AB 2. AD	the meaning is wrong, select the right answer from the options given
3. CD 4. BD	below. Otherwise, choose option 5.
5. NO ERROR	Conceived - conceited
20. The development is $(A)$ / believe to rise $(B)$ / from five to ten per	1. Requisite 2. Stipulation cent (C)/ in the next two years (D)	3. Curt 4. Contrived
1. BC 2. CD	5. No correction required
3. AD 4. AC	25. What is the difference between invention and innovation?
5. NO ERROR	1. An invention is exceptionally a 'thing', while an innovation is
21. Our history have been (A)/ a long evolutionary development(B)/	usually an invention that causes a change in behavior or in which there have been instances of (C)/ forgiving as well as	interactions.
compassion (D)	2. Invention is when something new or novel to the world is
1. BC 2. AB	discovered, while innovation is about introducing an incompetent
3. AD 4. AC	way of using, producing or distributing something.
5. NO ERROR	3. Invention can be defined as the creation of a product or
22. A generation which has (A)/ had access to the latest	introduction of a process for the first time. Innovation, on the other technologies(B)/ and has seen evolutionary changes (C)/ are more	hand, occurs if someone improves on or makes a significant aware (D)	contribution to an existing product, process or service.
1. BD 2. AC	4. Apple is an invention while IBM is an innovation.
3. BC 4. AD	5. All of the above.
5. NO ERROR	26 is an invention that brings about a transformation in Direction (Q. 23 - 27): Read the following passage carefully and	behavior or interactions.
answer the questions given below it. Certain words have been	1. Experimentation 2. Research highlighted for your attention.	3. Discovering a device 4. Market requirement
People often use the words 'invention' and	5. Innovation
'innovation' interchangeably. This is not only incorrect but misses a	27. Which of the following is false as per the given passage?

TIME-60 MINS

India's Best Selling Test Series at www.ibtindia.com

1. Invention is a novel scientific idea conceived through research and experimentation that turns into a tangible object.

Using the words 'invention' and 'innovation' interchangeably misses a few key subtleties in meaning that can alter a conversation.
All the processes that help in the generation of new ideas and translating them into the products demanded by the customers are covered under innovation.

4. The words 'invention' and 'innovation' are listed as synonyms in every thesaurus and they are definitely 100% interchangeable.5. None of the above.

Direction (Q. 28 - 32): A passage is given with 5 questions following it. Read the passage carefully and choose the best answer to each question out of the five given alternatives.

Communication is simply the sending of a message to another person. The person sending the message first needs to formulate the message in his head. This involves determining the meaning that the sender intends to convey to the other person. To formulate the meaning of the message, the sender usually draws upon his background attitudes, perceptions, emotions, opinions, education, and experience. The message is then sent to the listener through both verbal talking and non-verbal gestures. The person receiving this message then interprets its meaning. To do this, the listener uses his background, attitudes, perceptions, emotions, opinions, education, and experience. Effective communication exists between two persons when the person receiving the message interprets it in the same way as the sender intended it. Sounds really simple, doesn't it? Well, it can be.

Communication is essential for achieving managerial and organizational effectiveness. Without communication, employees will not be aware of what their co-workers are doing, will not have any idea about what their goal is, and will not be able to assess their performance. In the absence of channels of communication, supervisors will not be able to give instruction to their subordinates and management will not receive the information it requires to develop plans and make a decision. Good communication always helps employees become more involved in their work and helps them to develop a better understanding of their jobs. Clear, precise and timely communication of information also prevents the occurrence of organizational problems. Effective communication is essential for achieving organizational goals, but ensuring such communication has been a major problem for most organizations. Although the word "communication" is often used, there has been no consensus among communication experts regarding the definition of communication. In general, communication may be defined as the process by which the information is exchanged individuals. There between are many components of communication. Consider verbal communication skills, listening skills, written memorandums/email, telephone skills and non-verbal communication. Also, reflect upon all the people we communicate with: subordinates, peers, supervisors, customers, and groups of people. In addition, ponder some of the reasons, why we communicate: to get and give information, to discipline subordinates, to make assignments, and so on.

28. What are the steps involved in the process of communication?

1. By sending a message to another person.

2. Formation of the message in sender's head.

3. Interpretation of the message by the receiver.

- 4. Both 1 and 2.
- 5. All of the above.

29. How ineffective communication can affect the working of an institution or an organisation?

- 1. No awareness of the work being done.
- 2. No friendly attitude amongst the employees.
- 3. Supervisors won't be able to pass down the orders.
- 4. Both 1 and 3.
- 5. All of the above.

30. How does good communication help organisations and institutions?

1. Employees get interested in their work.

2. Helps in effective time management.

3. It helps in bonding the gap between employees and supervisors.

4. Both 1 and 2.

5. All of the above.

31. What is the synonym of the given word?

Precise

Meticulous Slipshod

5. None of the above.

3. Pivot

32. What is the antonym of the given word?

Intend

1. Frivolous

2. Envisage
4. Contemplate

2. Remiss

4. Sloven

5. None of the above.

Direction (Q. 33 - 40): Read the passage given below and then answer the questions given below the passage. Some words have been highlighted for your attention.

The EU is disregarding the climate emergency by continuing to give out billions of euros in subsidies to climate-intensive livestock farms at the same time as promising to cut emissions, say, campaigners. Under the Paris climate agreement, the EU and its member states have committed to reducing emissions in the European Union by at least 40% by 2030. The EU's farming sector has shown no decline in emissions since 2010, with meat and dairy estimated to be responsible for 12-17% of total greenhouse gas emissions. Yet the EU continues to pay out an estimated £24bn of taxpayer money - nearly a fifth of the EU's total budget - to support livestock farms across Europe, the majority of which are climate-intensive. "Instead of pouring billions of euros into industrial farms that drive climate change, the EU must support farmers to produce less and better meat, and to provide meat and dairy alternatives," said Greenpeace's EU agriculture policy director, Marco Contiero.

The EU's subsidy payouts to farmers are due to be replaced by next year. The EU Commission's draft Common Agricultural Policy (CAP) reform proposals, published last year, include an objective to take action on climate change. However, they set no targets for reducing livestock numbers. The EU agricultural commissioner, Phil Hogan, has previously been reported as dismissing the sector's emissions footprint. Compassion in World Farming campaigner Peter Stevenson said the EU was "deaf to the scientific arguments" that a reduction in EU production and consumption is necessary to tackle climate change. Former EU Environment commissioner Karl Falkenberg pointed the blame at MEPs in the EU Parliament's allpowerful agri-committee for blocking reforms. More than half the singles player has been intact for 33 years. It was in the summer of 1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp Nadal is beyond most. The triumph also came on the back of a testing few months for Nadal. Under the cloud of injury (1)/ in the final of the Australian Open this January (2)/ and had to endure a deflating loss to Djokovic (3)/ the 33-year-old ended 2018 (4). In the lead-up to the French Open, he was on the cusp of not making a final on his beloved clay for the first time since 2004, until he put together a winning streak at the Italian Open. But once in Paris (1)/, he was a transformed man (2)/ and it turned out what could arguably be (3)/ his most complete performance (4). From the backcout, he displayed the kind of athleticism and shot-making that his age. Federer bore the of it as he succumbed in straight sets in the semifinals. His play in the forecourt, an underrated part of his game, was 1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp Nadal is beyond most. The triumph also came on the back of a testing few months for Nadal. Under the cloud of injury (1)/ in the final of the Australian Open this January (2)/ and had to endure a deflating loss to Djokovic (3)/ the 33-year-old ended 2018 (4). In the lead-up to the French Open, he was on the cusp of not making a final on his beloved clay for the first time since 2004, until he put together a winning streak at the Italian Open. But once in Paris (1)/, he was a transformed man (2)/ and it turned out what could arguably be (3)/ his most complete performance (4). From the backcourt, he displayed the kind of athleticism and shot-making that his age. Federer bore the of it as he succumbed in straight sets in the semifinals. His play in the forecourt, an underrated part of his

India's Best Selling Test Series at www.ibtindia.com

1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp Nadal is beyond most. The triumph also came on the back of a testing few months for Nadal. Under the cloud of injury (1)/ in the final of the Australian Open this January (2)/ and had to endure a deflating loss to Djokovic (3)/ the 33-year-old ended 2018 (4). In the lead-up to the French Open, he was on the cusp of not making a final on his beloved clay for the first time since 2004, until he put together a winning streak at the Italian Open. But once in Paris (1)/, he was a transformed man (2)/ and it turned out what could arguably be (3)/ his most complete performance (4). From the backcourt, he displayed the kind of athleticism and shot-making that his age. Federer bore the of it as he succumbed in straight sets in the semifinals. His play in the forecourt, an underrated part of his
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp Nadal is beyond most. The triumph also came on the back of a testing few months for Nadal. Under the cloud of injury (1)/ in the final of the Australian Open this January (2)/ and had to endure a deflating loss to Djokovic (3)/ the 33-year-old ended 2018 (4). In the lead-up to the French Open, he was on the cusp of not making a final on his beloved clay for the first time since 2004, until he put together a winning streak at the Italian Open. But once in Paris (1)/, he was a transformed man (2)/ and it turned out what could arguably be (3)/ his most complete performance (4). From the backcourt, he displayed the kind of athleticism and shot-making that his age. Federer bore the of it as he succumbed in straight sets
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp Nadal is beyond most. The triumph also came on the back of a testing few months for Nadal. Under the cloud of injury (1)/ in the final of the Australian Open this January (2)/ and had to endure a deflating loss to Djokovic (3)/ the 33-year-old ended 2018 (4). In the lead-up to the French Open, he was on the cusp of not making a final on his beloved clay for the first time since 2004, until he put together a winning streak at the Italian Open. But once in Paris (1)/, he was a transformed man (2)/ and it turned out what could arguably be (3)/ his most complete performance (4). From the backcourt, he displayed the kind of athleticism and shot-making that his
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp Nadal is beyond most. The triumph also came on the back of a testing few months for Nadal. Under the cloud of injury (1)/ in the final of the Australian Open this January (2)/ and had to endure a deflating loss to Djokovic (3)/ the 33-year-old ended 2018 (4). In the lead-up to the French Open, he was on the cusp of not making a final on his beloved clay for the first time since 2004, until he put together a winning streak at the Italian Open. But once in Paris (1)/, he was a transformed man (2)/ and it turned out what could arguably be (3)/ his most complete performance (4). From the backcourt, he
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp Nadal is beyond most. The triumph also came on the back of a testing few months for Nadal. Under the cloud of injury (1)/ in the final of the Australian Open this January (2)/ and had to endure a deflating loss to Djokovic (3)/ the 33-year-old ended 2018 (4). In the lead-up to the French Open, he was on the cusp of not making a final on his beloved clay for the first time since 2004, until he put together a winning streak at the Italian Open. But once in Paris (1)/, he was a transformed man (2)/ and it turned out what could arguably be (3)/
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp Nadal is beyond most. The triumph also came on the back of a testing few months for Nadal. Under the cloud of injury (1)/ in the final of the Australian Open this January (2)/ and had to endure a deflating loss to Djokovic (3)/ the 33-year-old ended 2018 (4). In the lead-up to the French Open, he was on the cusp of not making a final on his beloved clay for the first time since 2004, until he put together a winning streak at the Italian Open. But once in Paris (1)/, he was a
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp Nadal is beyond most. The triumph also came on the back of a testing few months for Nadal. Under the cloud of injury (1)/ in the final of the Australian Open this January (2)/ and had to endure a deflating loss to Djokovic (3)/ the 33-year-old ended 2018 (4). In the lead-up to the French Open, he was on the cusp of not making a final on his beloved clay for the first time since 2004, until he put together a
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp Nadal is beyond most. The triumph also came on the back of a testing few months for Nadal. Under the cloud of injury (1)/ in the final of the Australian Open this January (2)/ and had to endure a deflating loss to Djokovic (3)/ the 33-year-old ended 2018 (4). In the lead-up to the French Open, he was on the cusp of not making a final on his
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp Nadal is beyond most. The triumph also came on the back of a testing few months for Nadal. Under the cloud of injury (1)/ in the final of the Australian Open this January (2)/ and had to endure a deflating loss to
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp Nadal is beyond most. The triumph also came on the back of a testing few months for Nadal. Under the cloud of injury (1)/ in the final of the Australian
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp Nadal is beyond most. The triumph also came on the back of a testing few months for
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp Nadal is beyond most.
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5). But the challenge of mastering a physically
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player (4)/ from the time he
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal (2)/ the 25-year-old
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the Spaniard's heir apparent on the surface. On dirt in each of the last
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome a spirited Dominic Thiem, widely touted, and quite rightly, as the
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single Grand Slam (4). The victory didn't come easy; he had to overcome
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged more trophies there (3)/ than any man or woman has at a single
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those exalted standards, Nadal's achievement is unparalleled. His record at Roland-Garros (1)/ is a whopping 93-2 (2)/, and he had bagged
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to relentlessly redefine the limits of greatness. But even by those
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in Majors (20), and Novak Djokovic (15) have taken turns to
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an era in which along with Nadal, Roger Federer, the all-time leader in
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that, capturing his 12th French Open and 18th Major overall. This is an
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years. On the Parisian clay on Sunday, Rafael Nadal did just that,
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent number at just one Major in a span of just 15
1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did Pete Sampras surpass it. But little did anybody expect a man to rack 1967 that he won the last of his 12 trophies and only in 2000 did singles player has been intact for 33 years. It was in the summer of Roy Emerson's record for most Grand Slam titles won by a male answer the questions given below.
Direction (Q. 41 - 50): Read the following passage carefully and
5. Withdraw
3. Extricate 4. Reimburse
1. Endowment 2. Excise meaning to the word SUBSIDY as given in the passage?
40. Which of the following words is the MOST SIMILAR in
5. Engulf
3. Apathetic 4. Enclose
1. Steadfast 2. Pledge
39. Which of the following words is the MOST OPPOSITE in meaning to the word 'COMMITTED' as given in the passage?
5. Wrecking 20. Which of the following words in the MOST OPPOSITE in
1. Distain2. Amelioration3. Mitigating4. Heeding meaning to the word DISREGARDING as given in the passage?1. Disdain2. Amelioration 38. Which of the following words is the MOST OPPOSITE in meaning to the word DISPEGAPDING as given in the passage?
5. Climate change, a problem ignored by the EU.
4. Problems within the EU
3. The EU and its members
2. The laxity of the EU regarding greenhouse gas emissions
1. The lack of consciousness of the EU
37. Choose a title for the given passage.
5. C and D

 $\langle \langle \rangle$

IBPS CLERK (MAINS) TOPIC TEST-1

India's Best Selling Test Series at www.ibtindia.com

out of 27 points won at the net against Thiem indicate. Even as	From the backcourt he displayed the kind of athleticism and shot-
Nadal established himself as a near constant among men, the	making that his age.
women's game threw up yet another surprise winner, this time in	1. Nonplussed 2. Gulled
Australia's Ashleigh Barty. The 23-year-old's style is delightfully	3. Marred 4. Belied old-school, with a beautifully constructed point preferred to	5. Enhanced murderous first-strike tennis. Combined with a ruthless calm, she 46. The following sentence may or may not contain an error in one completely unnerved the 19-year-old Marketa Vondrousova on	of its parts. Identify the part containing the error. If the sentence is
Saturday to end her nation's long wait for a new slam champion.	correct, select 'no error' as your answer.
41. Fill the blank in the following sentence with the most	But once in Paris (1)/, he was a transformed man (2)/ and it turned appropriate word.	out what could arguably be $(3)$ / his most complete performance $(4)$ .
Federer bore the of it as he succumbed in straight sets in	1.1 2.2
the semifinals.	3.3 4.4
1. Action 2. Brunt	5. No error
3. Advantage 4. Primacy	47. Rearrange the jumbled sentence to make a grammatically
5. Liaison	correct and meaningful sentence.
42. In the following sentence, correct the emboldened phrase if it is	Under the cloud of injury $(1)$ / in the final of the Australian Open incorrect. If the phrase is correct, select 'no improvement needed' as	this January (2)/ and had to endure a deflating loss to Djokovic (3)/ your answer.	the 33-year-old ended 2018 (4).
But little did anybody expect a man to rack up an equivalent	1. 4132 2. 1432
number at just one Major in a span of just 15 years.	3. 2341 4. 4123
1. Rack 2. Rack in	5. 3241
3. Rack onto 4. Rack for	48. Fill the blank in the following sentence with the most
5. No improvement	appropriate word.
43. The following sentence may or may not contain an error in one	His play in the forecourt, an underrated part of his game, was of its parts. Identify the part containing the error. If the sentence is	, coming in only for the assured kill, as the 23 out of 27
correct, select 'no error' as your answer.	points won at the net against Thiem indicate.
His record at Roland-Garros $(1)/$ is a whopping 93-2 $(2)/$ , and he	1. Elusive 2. Wary had bagged more trophies there $(3)$ / than any man or woman has at a	3. Lethal 4. Edgy single Grand Slam.(4)	5. Irascible
1.1 2.2	49. Which of the following is the correct meaning of the
3.3 4.4	emboldened word in the given sentence?
5. No error	But the challenge of mastering a physically fit and mentally sharp
44. Rearrange the jumbled sentence to make a grammatically	Nadal is beyond most.
correct and meaningful sentence.	1. Afar 2. Progressed more than
On dirt in each of the last four seasons (1)/ had in fact beaten Nadal	3. Apart from 4. Surpassing
(2)/ the 25-year-old Austrian (3)/ and was a much improved player	5. Too much for someone to achieve
(4)/ from the time he lost the 2018 final (5).	50. Which of the following is closest in meaning to the word
1. 14532 2. 23451	'unnerved'?
3. 35231 4. 51342	1. Exceeding 2. Disconcerted
5. 32145	3. Heartened 4. Boosted
45. Fill the blank in the following sentence with the most	5. Inspired appropriate word.	- moprov uppropriate word.

India's Best Selling Test Series at www.ibtindia.com

TIME-60 MINS

ANSWER KEY

1. (3)	2. (4)	3. (2)	4. (4)	5. (1)	6. (1)	7. (2)	8. (4)	9. (2)	10. (3)
11. (1)	12. (4)	13. (3)	14. (1)	15. (5)	16. (2)	17. (3)	18. (5)	19. (2)	20. (1)
21. (3)	22. (4)	23. (3)	24. (4)	25. (3)	26. (5)	27. (4)	28. (5)	29. (4)	30. (4)
31. (1)	32. (1)	33. (3)	34. (5)	35. (4)	36. (3)	37. (2)	38. (4)	39. (3)	40. (1)
41. (2)	42. (5)	43. (3)	44. (5)	45. (4)	46. (5)	47. (1)	48. (3)	49. (5)	50. (2)